WHY LOOK BACKWARD?

People who are not satisfied with the present state of things and the amount of unemployment and so forth, are advised by certain weighty thinkers to look back at the state of labor 100 or 200 years ago—and thank God they are alive.

Well, of course, if labor will only look backward long enough and intently enough, it may forget its present troubles. Apparently that is what the weighty thinkers desire.

But suppose, instead of looking backward and ruminating on things as they were, we all looked forward and thought about things as they might be—and should be?

We are not much concerned that standards of living are better now than in our grandfathers' day.

We are concerned about making things more pleasant in our own lifetimes.

Because, in 1830, people lived in poor homes, rather miserably, is no reason why we should be satisfied that many of our people now live in good homes, rather luxuriously.

We should not be content until all of our people live decently, have work, possess what luxuries they desire, and are removed, forever, from the fear of want and hunger.

No one can look forward and backward at the same time.

Canada's job, just now, is to look ahead.

IS GENIUS CHANGING?

North America is full of starving geniuses who are articulate because they are afraid of hardness and loneliness, we have it on the word of a well-known New York pastor Rev. Dr. Robert Norwood.

Among the geniuses with whose history we are familiar there are few, if any, to whom Dr. Norwood's description seems to properly apply.

Certainly we never seen Genius starve, he never silently, as the rule Genius starves because he is Genius and because he speaks a strange tongue and bears a banner with a strange device that none can understand.

The prospect of hardness and loneliness does not daunt Genius, as we have found him. In fact, he loves it like a fern loves water. Genius can look upon the rest of us earth-bound and understand. That's why there is no longer a need for our 100 per cent able-bodied Genius, first class. If he starves, he likes it all the better.

Men have painted great pictures though starvation and insanity were their only rewards. They have written great poetry and their compensation has been disease which sapied their lives. Great statesmen have spoken against all precedent and have been hooted down, but had their say, and it proved the truth.

Genius doesn't need to be hunted up and fished. It feeds itself, by nature.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNEW BEFORE

Sometimes the "researchers" in colleges seem to go to great lengths to discover what everyone knew before.

A young lady at Columbia University, after profound study and a good many experiments, has determined that every time two people shake hands germs pass from one hand to another.

The young researcher, therefore, insists a solemn warning against handshaking. Other young researchers, for some people, have been against kissing, but for some people against shaking hands. It must be a disheartening vocation.

Without any research at all we can tell you that germs get into your system every time you shake hands.

If you're afraid of germs, our only advice is: Stop breathing.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION—MALNUTRITION

The properly nourished child or the child with good nutrition is active physically and mentally; he is happy and good-natured; his colour is good and his eyes are bright; his appetite is good, and his weight is likely above the average for his age and height.

The malnourished child, the child who is suffering from what we call malnutrition, lacks one or more of the characteristics of the normal child. His skin may be pale; dark circles may be noticed under his eyes; he is either cranky and irritable, or dull, his appetite may be poor and he is usually listless; he is likely below the average weight, and his posture is poor.

Malnutrition is not an uncommon condition. It occurs in varying degrees of severity, and it is seen in children from all types of homes.

When nutrition is mentioned, the first thought is naturally given to what the child eats, and many persons jump at the conclusion that malnutrition means that the child does not get enough to eat. The child cannot be properly nourished with out proper foods, and in some cases, malnutrition is due to the child's not securing sufficient food.

Rarely is an insufficient quantity of food the cause of malnutrition. It is due practically always to an improper selection of foods. It may be that over-indulgence in sweets, and eating between meals destroy the appetite for the proper foods at meal-times.

The growing child requires a generous diet, because he is growing and also because he is very active. Children in whom we require more food than the average adult.

The growing child's diet should include regularly milk and milk products, fruits and green leafy vegetables, and attention to cereals, eggs, meat and potatoes.

Malnutrition is far from being entirely a question of diet. The most common cause, out of the diet, are lack of sleep, over-fatigue, lack of sun, and lack of fresh air, decayed teeth and tonsils, and adenoids.

A child may be fed the right selection of foods and in the proper amounts, but unless he secures regularly the long hours of sleep which he needs, he will not be properly nourished. The body cannot nourish itself properly from the food taken in if there is not sufficient fresh air, sunshine and exercise. Diseased teeth and tonsils simply poison the body and keep it malnourished.

In order to prevent malnutrition, select a proper diet for the child, free him from physical defects and make sure that he leads a hygienic life.

Questions concerning health addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

FIND WHEAT QUOTA PLAN PRACTICABLE

London, Nov. 6.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The Imperial conference's special committee has finally concluded the quota scheme of purchasing by Britain can be practically applied to wheat.

The method of increasing empire trade in wheat was the subject of a conference as a whole. But, as forecast, the experts have agreed on a number of difficulties in the way of a quota on canned fruits, canned fish and dairy products, the scheme could not be practically applied to these commodities.

Quota purchasing of wheat is one of the British government's alternative proposals for the scheme of imperial tariff preferences put forward by Premier MacDonald in Canada all the suggestions are designed to open the way for increased empire trade.

If the conference approves the quota on wheat, it is believed it will be voted so the dominions are allotted 55 per cent of Great Britain's requirements, the remainder being divided between British wheat growers and foreign countries.

55 Per Cent From Dominions

In other words, British millers would be required by the government to secure 55 per cent of the requirements from the dominions, this figure being in turn allotted between the chief wheat-growing units of the empire; as much as possible of the remainder from home farmers, and the rest of their requirements from abroad. One difficulty in the plan would be to ensure that wheat shipped to the United Kingdom would not be diverted in transit.

The wheat quota plan is considered practical because wheat and flour flow along well-defined channels of commerce, unlike dairy products, and canned fish and canned fruits, which would have to be purchased over a scattered area.

OBITUARY

DEATH OF MRS. CHARLES CLARKE

Despite the stormy weather of Wednesday afternoon a very large congregation of sympathetic friends gathered at the United Church, Macleod, for the funeral service of Mrs. Charles Clarke, who died at her home on 26th street on Sunday, November 9th.

The Clarke family have been residents of Macleod and district for 25 years, having come to Macleod from Toronto in 1905, and no family has been more highly respected during those years, due very largely to the quiet, exemplary life of the deceased, who was a devoted wife and loving mother of five sons and a large family of five daughters and six sons, who are all alive, except one, to bless and revitalize her memory.

Mrs. Clarke was born in Toronto on November 5th, 1868, making her 62 years of age, her maiden name being Rahona Christina Legier. When Mr. and Mrs. Clarke came west to Macleod they settled on a farm in the Rathwell district, where they lived for a large family. A few years ago Mr. Clarke bought property in town and quit the farm.

The deceased is survived by her husband, five married daughters, Mrs. George Lemier, Orison; Mrs. J. J. Kendall, Lethbridge; Mrs. J. C. Chester, Lethbridge; Mrs. W. J. Chester, Macleod; Mrs. C. J. Chester, Macleod; four sons, Charles, Jr., Lethbridge; Walter, of Parkland; William and Alex. of Macleod. One son, Chris, died April 29th, 1924. All the members of the family were present at the funeral service. All Mrs. Clarke's relatives reside in the Eastern Province.

The funeral service was conducted by the pastor of the church, the Rev. J. E. Kilduff, and the pall bearers were all old friends, neighbours of the Rathwell district, Mr. W. J. Shield, M. P. P., Percy Shield, Thomas Clarke, John Young, Leighton and Herb Moore.

One of the most beautiful floral displays seen in Macleod for some time was an evidence of the very high respect in which the deceased was held by her many sorrowing friends and relations.

Many dancers, and many friends of the neighborhood of Northern Light and Carleton Place, met at the Northern Light Schoolhouse last Friday night for a dance programme the main object of the evening's arrangements being the matter of giving a shower for the Rieber family, whose home was burned down a month and a half ago. All the belongings of the unfortunate folks were consumed in the fire, even to a considerable sum of money, on that occasion. At the Friday evening affair comrades of the dance and willing hand presented them with many useful and beautiful things, and expressed that touch of the world which displays the world's kinship. Mr. and Mrs. Rieber and their children are living in the dwelling-house on the C. A. O'Neil farm at this winter.

The funeral of Alroy Macleod occurred on Thursday last in attendance at the Convention in Calgary and High River last week. Services were conducted at the family residence at 2:30 p. m. by Rev. Alex. Sax Rohmer. All talking. Also all talking 2-reel comedy, "Poisoned Ivory." Usual admission.

The report published in The Times of Oct. 30 regarding Mr. Wallin's entertainment of friends was complete in that it should have been reported that a delightful birthday surprise party by her friends had brought an elaborate luncheon with them and many lovely birthday gifts for their hosts.

A very fine turkey supper was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ensminger in Monday evening, it being Mrs. Ensminger's birthday. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blair, Gordon Blair, Fenton Blair, C. Little, Bert Little, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Torrence, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fleming and daughter, Mrs. Bergen, Mr. and Mrs. Kern and Emil Kern.

Though the graving seems for the present to be rather hard to contend with, the inhabitants of Granum and district feel very pleased that the Town Council has seized the opportunity of doing the work, and not only of putting Railway Avenue—"The Broadway of Granum"—in shape; attention has been given to other streets too, and our town will soon boast of fine "All-Weather" roads. The work of this place has made it rather unpleasant for continuous wet weather, and not seldom have travellers been forced to remain in the town limits longer than they had planned to do, where the streets were not on good behavior. Now that has been rendered very unlikely at any rate, and we shall soon be telling proudly of the fine state of our avenues and streets.

Here, a word should be spoken for the Mayor, Mr. H. Dimm, who has not only been acting as Street Commissioner, but has also been in the wheel of the grader, placing cement, and practically putting the municipal house on wheels. The loose gravel, on the Main Highway, which will make a good road soon, is somewhat of a peril now and two plate-glass windows were broken with hurtling stones from cars last week.

The programme at the Young People's Society, held in the United Church Hall on Tuesday evening of this week, was led by Fenton Blair, the president, and by Lloyd Reynolds who was the convener for the evening. It was a Missionary programme and, assisting the convener were Misses M. Calder, Marion Clarke and Mrs. Dimm, and Messrs. Fred Clarke and Deresch. In the Discussion Period, which a number of the boys, including Vera Clarke, Freda Sherman, Dorcas Rowe and Mrs. Clarke, and the president, Lloyd Reynolds made a fine leader, and the programme was of a good quality. The missionary-treasurer, Miss Dorothy Smith, revealed through the minutes a healthy state of life in the Society. Fred Clarke was elected convener for the Missionary programme, and his committee will consist of himself together with the Ensminger and Earl Deresch. Arrangements were made for a debate to be held at the next Social Evening, and it was suggested that the sides for debate be Miss Hard and Mr. Pitt.

Mrs. Marion Clarke and Claude Marsh, the subject being "The Permanent Peace is a Greater Menace to a Nation Than War." There will be no meeting next Monday evening on account of the Chautauque Programme that evening.

The address given at the Thanksgiving Meeting of the Granum United W. M. S. last Thursday evening by Mrs. Knight of Macleod was anything but a soporific. Mrs. Knight had a large number of facts, disturbing and otherwise, which those who attended will not likely forget. She emphasized the great necessity of providing not only a right "Providence" in things of the mind and heart, but also of being good "Consumers"—i.e. responsible makers of market for the best things of life. Thus she claimed we can create a demand for the best. "Covet earnestly the best gifts," 1st Cor. 12:31 was her text. She spoke forcefully upon the pertinent matters of peace, and of temperance, showing by many comparisons the awful waste of money and of human resources in Canada upon alcoholic liquors. Mrs. MacGregor 4th Vice-President of the W. M. S. occupied the Chair and introduced Mrs. Knight. Lillian Wells contributed a very pleasing solo—"I Know I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," and Miss Mary and Mrs. H. Dimm gave a fine duet—"Whispering Hoar." Mrs. Knight came up from Macleod with Mrs. Ursula MacGregor and they were guests at supper with Mr. and Mrs. A. MacGregor and family.

The B. P. O. E. held their first social of the season Thursday evening of last week. About sixty couples were present. The first part of the evening was spent in court which prizes going to Mrs. H. Dimm and Mr. S. Marlette; consolation going to Mrs. Easton. A short sketch was staged by Bert Kellick, Dan Boyle and C. F. Carswell. A lovely lunch was served by the committee. Two hours was enjoyed in dancing, music being supplied by the Reynolds' Orchestra.

Large congregations attended the Thanksgiving and Armistice Memorial Services at the United Church of Granum on Sunday last at 11 and at 7:30 o'clock, and at the Northern Light Schoolhouse at 5 o'clock. The Minister, Rev. A. H. Rowe conducted the services of worship and preached. At the morning worship in Granum there was a special programme of worship to enable the young members of the congregation to share, when responses were chanted by the Primary Division, following the reading of Psalms of Thanksgiving led by the Minister. The children sang beautifully "Praise Him All Ye Happy Children" at each selection. The Minister gave a Children's Story "Jack and the Japs," and the ushers who received the Offering and took part in the Dedication Service were three boys of the Junior Class—Charles McKeown, Jack Still and Orville Edwards. During the Group Study Period there was an especially interesting discussion.

A few years ago, however, the accused went free because his own mind wasn't right.

Sax Rohmer. All talking. Also all talking 2-reel comedy, "Poisoned Ivory." Usual admission.

The report published in The Times of Oct. 30 regarding Mr. Wallin's entertainment of friends was complete in that it should have been reported that a delightful birthday surprise party by her friends had brought an elaborate luncheon with them and many lovely birthday gifts for their hosts.

A very fine turkey supper was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ensminger in Monday evening, it being Mrs. Ensminger's birthday. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blair, Gordon Blair, Fenton Blair, C. Little, Bert Little, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Torrence, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fleming and daughter, Mrs. Bergen, Mr. and Mrs. Kern and Emil Kern.

Though the graving seems for the present to be rather hard to contend with, the inhabitants of Granum and district feel very pleased that the Town Council has seized the opportunity of doing the work, and not only of putting Railway Avenue—"The Broadway of Granum"—in shape; attention has been given to other streets too, and our town will soon boast of fine "All-Weather" roads. The work of this place has made it rather unpleasant for continuous wet weather, and not seldom have travellers been forced to remain in the town limits longer than they had planned to do, where the streets were not on good behavior. Now that has been rendered very unlikely at any rate, and we shall soon be telling proudly of the fine state of our avenues and streets.

Here, a word should be spoken for the Mayor, Mr. H. Dimm, who has not only been acting as Street Commissioner, but has also been in the wheel of the grader, placing cement, and practically putting the municipal house on wheels. The loose gravel, on the Main Highway, which will make a good road soon, is somewhat of a peril now and two plate-glass windows were broken with hurtling stones from cars last week.

The programme at the Young People's Society, held in the United Church Hall on Tuesday evening of this week, was led by Fenton Blair, the president, and by Lloyd Reynolds who was the convener for the evening. It was a Missionary programme and, assisting the convener were Misses M. Calder, Marion Clarke and Mrs. Dimm, and Messrs. Fred Clarke and Deresch. In the Discussion Period, which a number of the boys, including Vera Clarke, Freda Sherman, Dorcas Rowe and Mrs. Clarke, and the president, Lloyd Reynolds made a fine leader, and the programme was of a good quality. The missionary-treasurer, Miss Dorothy Smith, revealed through the minutes a healthy state of life in the Society. Fred Clarke was elected convener for the Missionary programme, and his committee will consist of himself together with the Ensminger and Earl Deresch. Arrangements were made for a debate to be held at the next Social Evening, and it was suggested that the sides for debate be Miss Hard and Mr. Pitt.

Mrs. Marion Clarke and Claude Marsh, the subject being "The Permanent Peace is a Greater Menace to a Nation Than War." There will be no meeting next Monday evening on account of the Chautauque Programme that evening.

The address given at the Thanksgiving Meeting of the Granum United W. M. S. last Thursday evening by Mrs. Knight of Macleod was anything but a soporific. Mrs. Knight had a large number of facts, disturbing and otherwise, which those who attended will not likely forget. She emphasized the great necessity of providing not only a right "Providence" in things of the mind and heart, but also of being good "Consumers"—i.e. responsible makers of market for the best things of life. Thus she claimed we can create a demand for the best. "Covet earnestly the best gifts," 1st Cor. 12:31 was her text. She spoke forcefully upon the pertinent matters of peace, and of temperance, showing by many comparisons the awful waste of money and of human resources in Canada upon alcoholic liquors. Mrs. MacGregor 4th Vice-President of the W. M. S. occupied the Chair and introduced Mrs. Knight. Lillian Wells contributed a very pleasing solo—"I Know I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," and Miss Mary and Mrs. H. Dimm gave a fine duet—"Whispering Hoar." Mrs. Knight came up from Macleod with Mrs. Ursula MacGregor and they were guests at supper with Mr. and Mrs. A. MacGregor and family.

The B. P. O. E. held their first social of the season Thursday evening of last week. About sixty couples were present. The first part of the evening was spent in court which prizes going to Mrs. H. Dimm and Mr. S. Marlette; consolation going to Mrs. Easton. A short sketch was staged by Bert Kellick, Dan Boyle and C. F. Carswell. A lovely lunch was served by the committee. Two hours was enjoyed in dancing, music being supplied by the Reynolds' Orchestra.

Large congregations attended the Thanksgiving and Armistice Memorial Services at the United Church of Granum on Sunday last at 11 and at 7:30 o'clock, and at the Northern Light Schoolhouse at 5 o'clock. The Minister, Rev. A. H. Rowe conducted the services of worship and preached. At the morning worship in Granum there was a special programme of worship to enable the young members of the congregation to share, when responses were chanted by the Primary Division, following the reading of Psalms of Thanksgiving led by the Minister. The children sang beautifully "Praise Him All Ye Happy Children" at each selection. The Minister gave a Children's Story "Jack and the Japs," and the ushers who received the Offering and took part in the Dedication Service were three boys of the Junior Class—Charles McKeown, Jack Still and Orville Edwards. During the Group Study Period there was an especially interesting discussion.

A few years ago, however, the accused went free because his own mind wasn't right.

Hand-to-Mouth Buying Is Passing in America

BY EDWINA NOLAN

Director of Home Service, General Electric Refrigeration Department

A NEW order, instead of food purchases for the home are concerned, is coming into vogue.

Hand-to-mouth buying is passing. Housewives are not buying for one or two days, but for two or three days, or longer.

It is true that many women will make daily trips to market, but more and more housewives are buying in larger quantities, and getting the benefit of price reduction by buying in bulk.

At the same time making their marketing easier, the butcher cut the meat into chops, roast or stew meat, gets the lowest price. The same is true of fruits, vegetables, fowl or fish. The housewife who knows that her food shopping is done for a while, because the fact that she is keeping her foodstuffs. Her trips to the market, too, are cut in half.

For instance, in buying meats the hand-to-mouth purchaser orders two, three or four chops, or a half pound of meat, or a slice of ham. She pays the highest price per pound, because the butcher cut the meat into small pieces. The same is true of fruits, vegetables, fowl or fish. The housewife who knows that her food shopping is done for a while, because the fact that she is keeping her foodstuffs. Her trips to the market, too, are cut in half.

THAT ACCOUNT OF YOURS

We refer, of course, to that account of yours with us, argument that there is no more obligation to pay your grocery account than there is to pay any other account you may owe. This is one of those half-truths that are so common in our thinking. If you can pay only part of your bills then your grocery account ought to have first priority. More than likely there is no security to protect this account, yet you require food supplies daily. Your first obligation is to provide food for your family. The justice of self-preservation demands that you pay your food bills first.

Protect your grocer. Don't let him go under. It is your business to keep him in business. You need him in your business. This is sound common sense that will stand up against any argument.
